Lek and Luca had school in the morning, but Luca had a problem. He'd lost his entire pencil case and couldn't remember where he'd last seen it.

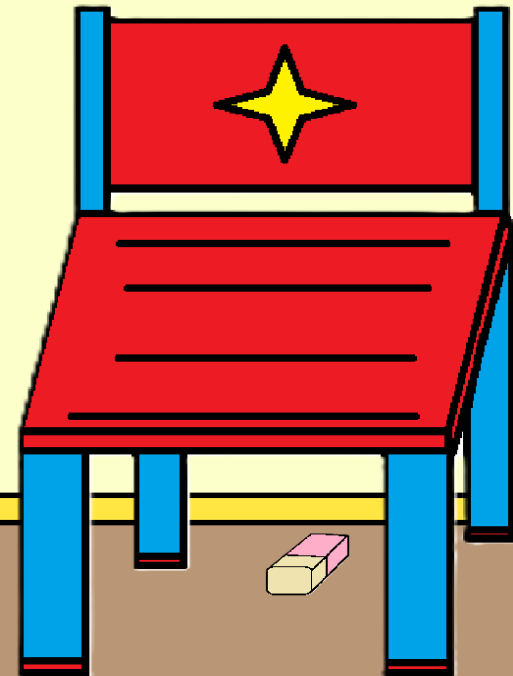

"Don't worry Luca, I'll help you find your pencil case" Lek offered helpfully.

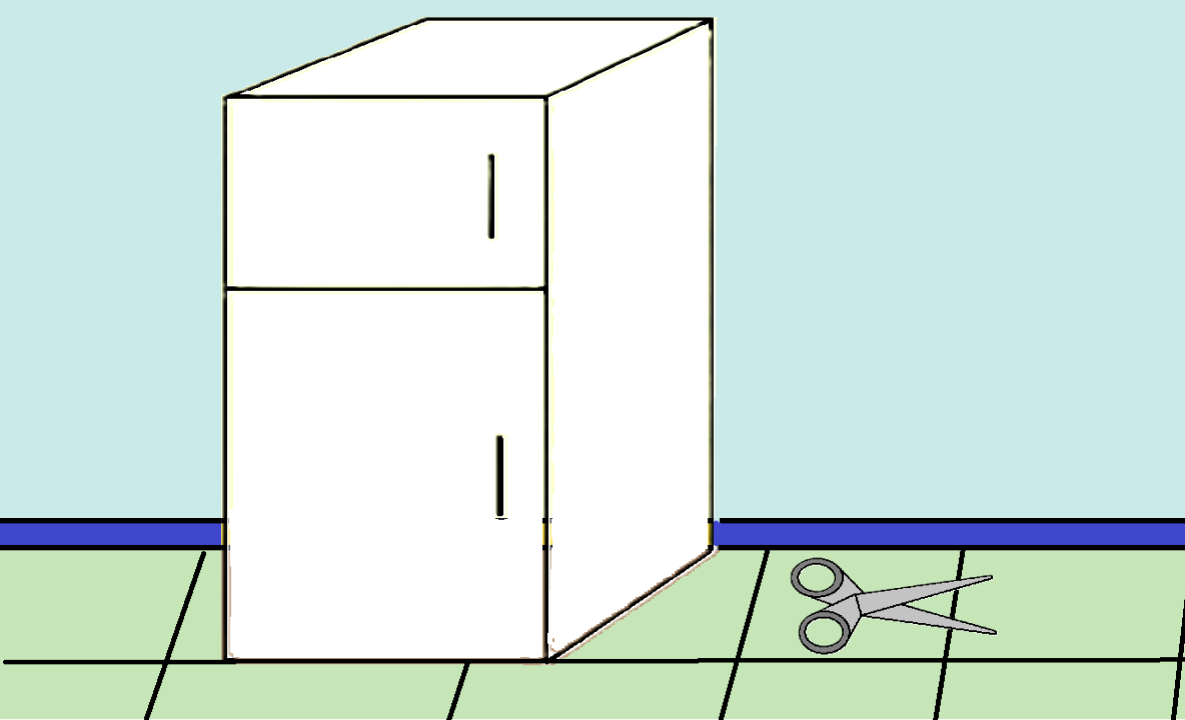

Luca looked on top of the television and found a pencil.

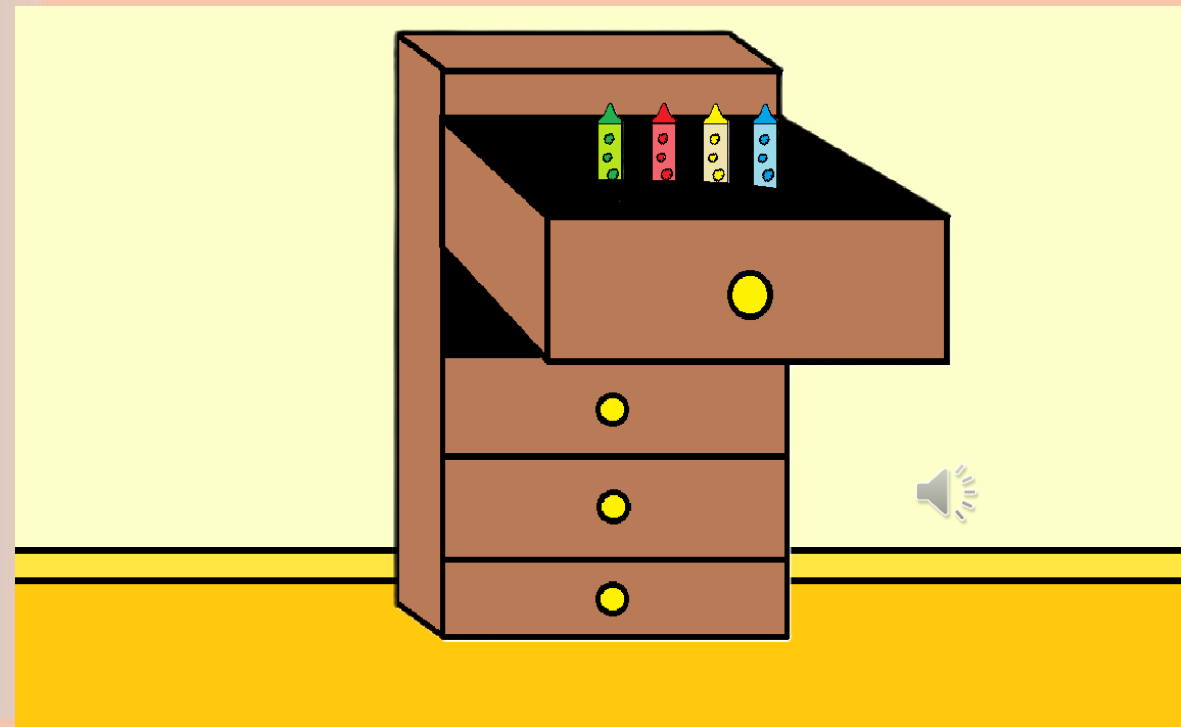

Lek looked under the chair and found a rubber.

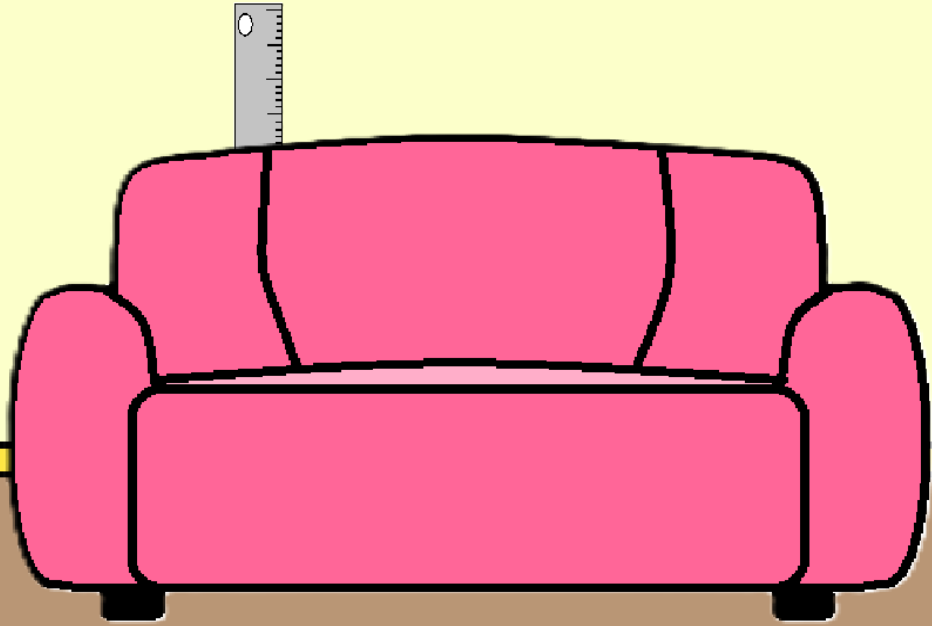

Luca looked next to the fridge and found a pair of scissors.

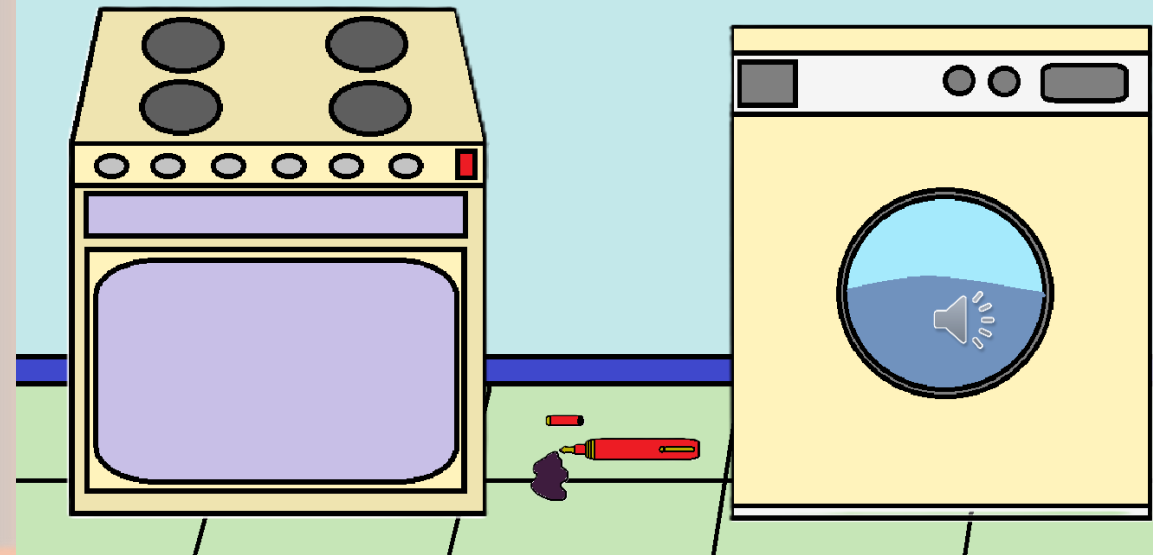

Lek looked in the drawer and found some crayons.

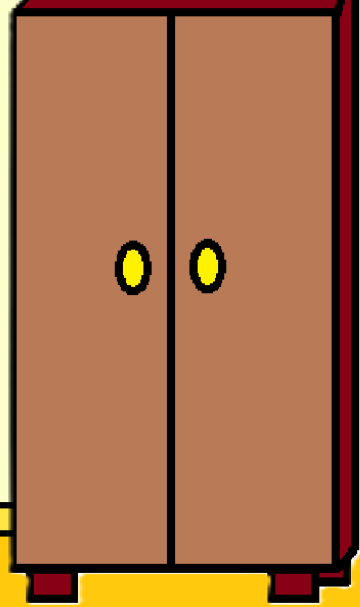

Luca looked behind the sofa and found a ruler.

Lek found a pen between the washing machine and cooker.

Luca found a sharpener in front of the wardrobe.

"We've found all of your stationery but where's your pencil case?" Lek wondered.

"I think I might know," replied Luca.

“It looks like Baby has found a new hat.”
